"How would you like to be a racket? A stranger for a week, an heir for a week, then down with the racket and a stranger again?"

Inspector, worn Harold Horvick, Magistrate plans to visit her well - but before the papers can be drawn up, she is dead from an overdose of pills. All eyes are on Carey Silence, a penniless orphan who was recently made Horvick's ward. Suspicion focuses on evidence. Carey is arrested and her trial is prepared. So begins a classic golden age mystery with many suspects and clues. Who was the 'racket' referred to? Who was it Horvick really intended to get out of her will? And most importantly - who murdered her?"

This novel, from 1945, tells the story of one of the most dramatic trials in detective fiction - the trial of Carey Silence. The new edition features an introduction by crime fiction historian Celia Farn.

"When I pick up a book by Patricia Wentworth I think, now to enjoy myself - and I always do." Mary Dahl, Daily Mirror
